Electric Bill Explanation Monthly Tenants

Under California Law we are required to bill electric usage at the CPUC (California Public Utilities Commission) approved residential rate. In California Electric is billed on a tiered system.

The Baseline represents a daily number of kilowatt hours (kwh) of electricity at the lowest rate. The baseline assures residents that a minimum supply of electricity- rather than all of the electricity will be at the lowest rate. The baseline is determined by geographic region and by season. You will pay a higher rate for any electricity above the baseline amount since rising rate tiers help reduce energy consumption.

The baseline is currently 19.4 KWH/day during the summer months and 11.4 KWH/day for the winter months. The tiers listed below are only representative of the tiered rates and are subject to change when the CPUC changes the rates.

Rates are subject to change without notice based on the current residential rate. For current rates or if you have additional questions please ask.
